Sale of Local Business Told

Sale of the Quality Aluminum Awning Company was announced this week by Charles Brown, new owner, who took over operation of the company Sept. 1 from John O'Dell.

Brown, a 30-year-old father of four children, will continue operating the plant at 21168 S. Western Ave. at Torrance Blvd., he said.

A native of Wichita Falls, Tex., Brown moved to California in 1950 while serving in the U.S. Navy. Following his discharge after more than eight years of service, he settled in the Long Beach area where he has been working in sale, installation and manufacture of aluminum awnings and screens.

Brown is currently featuring a get-acquainted sale offering reductions from 10 to 15 per cent on aluminum awnings and screens.

Aeronca Reorganizes Local Division, Promotes Ebert.

Aeronca Manufacturing Corporation of Middletown, Ohio, today announced the regrouping of all of its activities on the Pacific Coast into the newly organized Aeronca Division of Aeronca, according to John A. Lawler, president of the corporation.

The new Aeronca Division will include the facilities of the Longren-California Division located at 24751 Crenshaw Blvd. and 2576 W. Carson St. here, as well as those of the former Aeronca-California Corp., a wholly-owned subsidiary located at 5651 W. Century Blvd., Los Angeles.

The total plant area included in the new divisional organization now includes over 180,000 sq. ft. of modern facilities equipped with the latest and most modern tooling and equipment for the production of aircraft and missile structures, and the development of new techniques and processes.

ENDING BASIC . . . Scheduled to complete combat training Oct. 30 at the Camp Pendleton Marine Base is Marine Pvt. Virgil F. Bateman, son of Mrs. Lucille M. Bateman, 25338 Walnut Ave., Lomita.

GEORGE M. EBERT, currently vice president and general manager of the Longren-California Division, is announced as the vice president and general manager of the new division. The headquarters will continue at 24751 Crenshaw Blvd.

The Aeronca Division of Aeronca has just been awarded a contract by Boeing Airplane Co. amounting to approximately $500,000 for structures for the Bomarc IM99A missile.

In addition, work is under way in the division on major structures including wing fuel tanks and pylons for the B-52G, missile platform bomber, for ribs and spars for Boeing's KC-135 Stratolanker and for the 707 Transcontinental airliner, as well as assemblies for the Chance-Vought F8U and for other major aircraft and missile programs.

Rolling Hills Man Joins Garrett to Head Up Sales

Robert M. Jackson, 5435 Middlecrest Road, Rolling Hills, has joined The Garrett Corp. as assistant to the vice president in charge of sales.

Formerly a Department of Defense electronic-management engineer for 20 years, Jackson will serve as technical advisor in the field of electronic and electro-mechanical systems in his new position.

Jackson, with 15 years' experience as staff assistant to the director of engineering at Fort Monmouth, N. J., at one point was responsible for coordinating the Army Signal Corps' contribution to the missile program, including the Redstone, Jupiter, La Crosse, Nike and Hawk missiles.

From 1955 to 1958 he served as deputy chief of the West Coast Office of the Signal Corps. In 1957, as liaison engineer to the Far East, Jackson investigated electronic and communication problems encountered by the U. S. Army in Japan, Korea, Okinawa, Formosa and the Philippines. Before joining The Garrett Corp. he was resident liaison engineer for two years at the Hughes Aircraft Co. on the Missile Monitor, an electronic air defense system.

RESEARCH IN THE development of production methods for the use of Molybdenum, Rene 41, Vasco-jet and other exotic materials is being carried on at the Aeronca facility.

Integration of Aeronca's facilities in the Los Angeles-Torrance area as the Aeronca Division is expected to lead to a continuing expansion of Aeronca's activities in this area.
